

SOUND CHECK

Former Jefferson Starship singer-guitarist Paul Kantner, left, and Diana Mangano will sing in Sonoma in February. SHAWN BALDWIN / Associated Press

Eclectic sax program

The Italian Saxophone Quartet swings into the Wells Fargo Center for the Arts at 7:30 p.m. Friday with an eclectic program of classical music, performed with a jazzy accent. The concert, presented by the Santa Rosa Concert Association's Great Artist Series, includes works by Bach, Scarlatti, Piazzolla, Cole Porter, Joplin and Gershwin.

Founded in 1982, the Italian Saxophone Quartet is composed of four virtuoso soloists who perform some of the world's great chamber music on soprano, alto, tenor and baritone saxophone.

Ticket: $16-$35; $10 for full-time students/seniors. 50 Mark West Springs Road, Santa Rosa. 546-1152.

Hear Starship legends

Legendary Jefferson Starship founders Paul Kantner and David Freiberg, along with longtime lead vocalist Diana Mangano and pianist Chris Smith, will perform three acoustic shows Feb. 15, 16 and 17 at the intimate Ledson Hotel and Harmony Lounge on the Sonoma Plaza.

Entitled "Galactica Acoustica," the programs include folk material that the band is getting ready to record. Tickets are $67, available at www.ledsonhotel.com and www.ticketweb.com. 480 First St. E. 996-9779.

-- Diane Peterson
© The Press Democrat.